CLEAR - about us !

CLEAR (Center for Learning on Evaluation) is a global initiative that aims to help developing countries build their capacity in monitoring and evaluation (M & E) and Performance Management. CLEAR responds to the growing demand from stakeholders (governments, civil society, development agencies, academics, etc.) through two main components:

- (1) training, technical assistance and practical evaluation interventions
- (2) global learning to produce quality innovative materials and to share good M & E practices at the regional level.

The initiative is funded by a consortium of eleven (11) donors and is led by a Global Hub at the Independent Evaluation Group (IEG) housed at the World Bank headquarters in Washington. Six (6) regional centers are located throughout the world.

The African Center for Higher Education in Management (CESAG), based in Dakar, Senegal, has been selected to house to CLEAR for French-speaking Africa since 2012. The Center focuses on monitoring and evaluation (M & E) and results-based management services, in particular through :

- (i) training through the development of technical content and resources to offer courses dedicated mainly to the specific needs of the targeted countries ;
- (ii) advisory services through national and sectoral technical support with the most innovative and relevant tools, methods and approaches and also research to help strengthen the quality of evaluations and availability of qualified evaluators in each region.

CLEAR Francophone Africa offers a variety of training programs (basic and advanced) in monitoring and evaluation and related fields. These programs are designed according to an extremely rigorous approach including the development or adaptation of materials and contextualization by case studies inspired by field experiences in Africa, training of trainers, pilot deployment, updating of teaching materials according to international standards. This rigorous approach guarantees the quality of our services.
